

Enhance your methodological skills? Sign up now for GSERM
St.Gallen 2018!

View this email in your browser

The GSERM Global School in Empirical Research Methods is a high-calibre integrated generic programme teaching methodology. We welcome Master and PhD students, postdocs and also practionners from all kinds of study fields. You enhance your skills in block seminars taught by world-class faculty amongst an international crowd of participants.

This year we offer 31 courses during our main period in June; you choose one course per week worth 4 ECTS, network with fellow researchers, and enjoy an interesting opportunity to discover Switzerland as a part of the complimentary cultural programme.

Seize the opportunity to further enhance your reserach skills and apply now! Check out our course programme for 2018 and please contact us for any further information.

Merry X-mas and all the best for 2018!

Your GSERM St. Gallen Team

Professor Andreas Herrmann
Institute for Customer Insight
University of St. Gallen

Flyer with compact information about our Courses, Prices and Deadlines.

Flyer

Detailed information about our courses: level, prerequisites and more.

Courses

Find out more about GSERM experiences of our Professors and Alumnis!

Testimonials

NEW in 2018:

- Kenneth A. Bollen teaches a two day workshop Model Implied Instrumental Variables - An Alternative Approach to Structural Equation Models (SEMs) from 4 - 5 June. This is offered as a joint ICPSR - GSERM course.
- Roland Füss / Zeno Adams offers the course Spatial Econometrics from 4 - 8 June.
- Brett Lantz teaches the advanced course Machine Learning with R - Advanced from 11 - 15 June as well as the introduction course in the previous week.

- John Poe offers the course Basic and Advanced Multilevel Modeling with R and Stan also from 11 - 15 June.

Copyright © 2017 University of St.Gallen, All rights reserved.

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list